

Words. Without them we'd be speechless. Actions would have nothing to speak louder than. And rubber would have nothing to confidently ricochet toward glue. But now, from the twisted, demented minds of Vivian Martin, Gina Alverson and Kris Krainock, comes a fierce collaboration of words and actions in an unprecedented multimedia art show that explores the words that most inspire and provoke: WORDS TO LIVE BY. Original photography, paintings, drawings, film work and poetry, along with interactive installations and live performances, will usher you into a world of (not-so-pure) imagination that will intrigue, inform and perhaps even frighten. Remember! Remember! The 5th of September! Join us at Blackbird Studios and see us in person, displayed astonishingly in perfect, crystal-clear high definition, bold color and living flesh!
